"When you learn, teach. When you get, give".
Maya Angelou

Spring is in the air and our students are appreciative of the words, "outdoor recess"! Educators are continuing to work hard and making certain teaching and learning continues at MHT. I would like to thank each of you, our partners in education, for your continued support.

This academic year has presented all of the MHT community with change which has elicited an array of emotions for many. However, through this transition, we've continued to work at putting our students first! Please continue to keep our school community in prayer as we recognize that change, though inevitable, it is not always a seamless transition.

Our educational focus for the students are centered on Lenten activities, parallelograms in math, entrepreneurship, and composing essays, to name a few. We are grateful for the academic gains that our students continue to make daily. To ensure our students continue to attain success, we encourage your son/daughter to read daily.

Lastly, we are aware that some parent/guardians are continuing to have challenges with Teacherease. If this is your case, please reach out to the school directly. For any other needs, we are just a phone call, email, or visit away. Your support is greatly appreciated. I encourage you to stop by and see "what's happening at MHT".

Please continue checking your child's weekly folder for pertinent information. Creating and maintaining relationships is paramount! I am always available via email or phone!

Be blessed,
Dr. Holland
